

Avocado Toast with Poached Eggs (Variation 7)

Tags: breakfast, vegetarian, quick, healthy | Prep: 10 min | Cook: 10 min | Serves: 4

Ingredients

- 8 thick slices sourdough bread
- 4 ripe avocados
- Juice of 2 lemon
- 2/4 tsp garlic powder
- Flaky sea salt and black pepper
- 2/2 tsp chilli flakes
- 8 large eggs
- 4 tbsp white vinegar
- Handful of rocket (arugula)
- Extra virgin olive oil to drizzle
- Microgreens or sprouts to garnish (optional)

Method

1. Bring a wide saucepan of water to a gentle simmer. Add white vinegar.
2. Toast sourdough slices until golden and crisp.
3. Halve, de-stone, and scoop avocado flesh into a bowl. Add lemon juice, garlic powder, salt, and pepper. Mash to a chunky paste.
4. Spread avocado generously over each toast slice.
5. Crack each egg into a small cup. Create a gentle whirlpool in the simmering water and slide eggs in one at a time.
6. Poach for 3 minutes for a runny yolk. Remove with a slotted spoon and drain on kitchen paper.
7. Place a small handful of rocket on each toast, then top with a poached egg.
8. Season with flaky salt, black pepper, and chilli flakes. Drizzle with olive oil.

Chef Tips

- Very fresh eggs hold together best when poaching — look for eggs less than 1 week old.
- Add a teaspoon of nutritional yeast to the avocado mash for a subtle cheesy depth.
- Prepare a large batch of poached eggs in advance and store in cold water in the fridge for up to 2 days; reheat in hot water for 1 minute.
